Customer Reviews

We used this for our very first trip to DC with our kids. It was an excellent resource for us. We knew absolutely nothing about DC when we started planning this trip. The layout is fun and concise. It lists 68 of the top attractions in and around the city. Each two-page listing includes the following: * 2-4 paragraph description of the attraction with details and recommendations on how to visit it. * A "Make the Most of Your Time" info box with tips and tricks. * An "Eats For Kids" info box with at least one suggestion for food in or nearby the attraction. * A "Keep in Mind" info box with additional insight. * Address, phone, cost, hours, and age appropriateness all laid out in a standardized, easy-to-find manner. In addition, there is a short, 5-6 page intro with some tips about preparing for your trip, getting around town, etc. At the end of the book is an index section that is organized with fun titles like "Lost in Space", showing all of the space-oriented attractions, or "Art Attack" with art attractions. All in all, this was a friendly, fun, and helpful guide to enjoying the city. It made all the difference on our trip as we were able to quickly narrow our focus on the attractions that would be best for our family.

We used this book daily as we toured Washington DC during spring break. It's priceless as it provides you with which line to take for the subway - which stop to get off at - and then once you arrive there are tidbits about the historical site you're visiting and also where to stop for a break or lunch. I'd recommend to anyone taking children to DC

This is a fabulous reference outlining different museums and "artifacts" worth seeing in the D.C. area. As someone who grew up close to the city, there were tons of facts I didn't know. Great resource!

If you are looking for a snapshot on what to and where to go then this is the book for you. It gives you a brief description on the location and some pertinent info such as how to get there, where you can eat, and pricing. It's small so it's great to throw into your bag while traveling without taking up a lot of space. Kids enjoyed it as well.

good book, well written and our 8 thru 15 year old grandchildren studied it every night picking out places they "just had to see" made the trip more interesting to them and loved to see them involved in the decisions ..

Great, very informative.

this book gives great hints about costs for attractions getting tickets and local places to take the kids for the never ending snacks and drinks that they request. It is also recommends based upon your child's age level. wonderful

Need to add blank journal pages so the kids can write about what they saw at each site. Gracie checked off what we saw in the table of contents (create a blank box).
