Judith Blacklock is a highly experienced and widely acclaimed teacher of both fresh and dried flower arranging, who runs her own successful flower school in Knightsbridge, London.

I love this book. I gave it a 5-star rating because it shows how to make classic arrangements step by step. So many of us who are trying to learn flower arranging have very limited understanding of how things work/how things go together. This really put it all in perspective for me. I feel confident that I could re-create any of these designs by simply following the instructions.

This book doesn't show you any real steps on how to arrange flowers....If you are looking to learn about arranging flowers for you home don't get this book. It had many pages of useless stuff that didn't help me learn anything. Nice pictures of some real weird and ugly arrangements !

Not what I anticipated, not illustrative at all very good as an introduction to floral arranging, nice pictures, easy to follow, I really liked it. I recommend this book
