Death By China: Confronting The Dragon - A Global Call To Action (paperback)

Synopsis

The world's most populous nation and soon-to-be largest economy is rapidly turning into the planet's most efficient assassin. Unscrupulous Chinese entrepreneurs are flooding world markets with lethal products. China's perverse form of capitalism combines illegal mercantilist and protectionist weapons to pick off American industries, job by job. China's emboldened military is racing towards head-on confrontation with the U.S. Meanwhile, America's executives, politicians, and even academics remain silent about the looming threat. Now, best-selling author and noted economist Peter Navarro meticulously exposes every form of "Death by China," drawing on the latest trends and events to show a relationship spiraling out of control.
Â Death by China reveals how thousands of Chinese cyber dissidents are being imprisoned in "Google Gulags"; how Chinese hackers are escalating coordinated cyberattacks on U.S. defense and America's key businesses; how China's undervalued currency is damaging the U.S., Europe, and the global recovery; why American companies are discovering that the risks of operating in China are even worse than they imagined; how China is promoting nuclear proliferation in its pursuit of oil; and how the media distorts the China story--including a "Hall of Shame" of America's worst China apologists.
Â This book doesn't just catalogue China's abuses: It presents a call to action and a survival guide for a critical juncture in America's history--and the world's.

Navarro and Autry outline a clear and achievable path for America to tame the Dragon's onslaught. This highly entertaining book serves as not only a riotous call to arms, but a roadmap for Americans to re-claim the 21st century as their own. — Chriss Street, The Huffington Post --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

“Like a modern-day Paul Revere, this book offers the most urgent of warnings about how China is systematically destroying the American economy under the false banner of ‘free trade’ and in the process, severely weakening our national defenses.” — Ian Fletcher, Senior Economist, Coalition for a Prosperous America “The authors rightly and squarely point the finger at all of the corporate turncoats and China apologists in America who are helping to make China’s rise anything but peaceful.” — Alan Tonelson, Research Fellow, U.S. Business and Industrial Council, AmericanEconomicAlert.org “A high-powered rifle shot that hits the Beijing bull’s-eye dead-on.” — Dylan Ratigan, host of MSNBC’s The Dylan Ratigan Show “Death by China is further proof that we are sowing the seeds of our own demise.... This book is shocking and is a must-read for all.” — Paul Midler, author of Poorly Made in China “This clarion call carefully researches and intricately details the clear and present dangers that an anything but ‘peacefully rising’ China poses to the world.” — Congressman Dana Rohrabacher, 46th District (Rep, CA) “This liberty bell of a book should shake American leaders out of their slumber so that they finally ‘finally’ realize that China’s economic policies are bankrupting the United States of America.” — Richard McCormack, Editor and Publisher, Manufacturing & Technology News “I’ve been long concerned about China’s evolving military challenge to America and our allies.... Every Western political and military leader should read this book. Now!” — Jon Gallinetti, Major General, USMC, retired “Be forewarned: Once you start reading, you won’t want to stop.” — Damon DiMarco, author of Tower Stories: An Oral History of 9/11 and co-author of My Two Chinas: The Memoir of a Chinese Counterrevolutionary with Baiqiao Tang “A chilling compilation of China’s gathering storm.” — Brian Binnie, Commander USN, retired; test pilot; commercial astronaut and winner of the Ansari X Prize “China is now the greatest threat to America. Soon to be the world’s largest economy, China is attacking on every front, with every available weapon—from protectionism and currency manipulation to cyber attacks and espionage. Around the globe, China is also doing whatever it takes to capture crucial resources—even if it means promoting nuclear proliferation by the world’s most dangerous regimes. Inside the United States, Americans are being injured or killed by the Dragon’s dangerous exports: poisoned food, spiked drugs, toxic toys. Meanwhile, huge U.S. corporations have allied with China's state-owned enterprises to destroy American manufacturing and, ultimately and ironically, destroy themselves. It's an incredible and incredibly shameful story, and Death by China tells it all. But understanding the reality of China's assault on America is only the beginning. Leading economists Peter Navarro and Greg Autry offer a complete plan for surviving the global power shift China has already engineered and halting the Dragon's onslaught before it's too late. It's not China bashing if it's true. Challenging the China apologists and appeasers. The Dragon's death to America's manufacturing base. How China's totalitarianism, mercantilism, and protectionism are winning. China's dark visitors steal the rope to hang us with Beijing's Red Hacker Brigades vow: "We will bury you, Chinese-style." Death by Colonial Dragon. A rising hegemon's revenge. Vacuuming up Africa's resources, plundering Latin America, bullying Asia.

Very informative. Makes you wonder what is going to happen once the USA realizes how imbalanced our trading with China has become. After visiting China in 2015, I now understand how their economic explosion was paid. China has been getting away with economic blackmail for way too long, and new agreements should be hammered out. Hopefully, the new administration will be more committed to getting more equitable agreements. I glad Mr Navarro now has a position in our gov't to assist and negotiation more equitable agreements.

I have read much of this in bits and pieces on other web sites (particularly Zero Hedge) and heard it in talks with people who actually work in China, but to see it all amassed in one place and so artfully and completely put together, is astounding. Politicians and business journalists as well as the CEOs of major multinationals, especially American multinationals, are in collusion to hide all this from us or to make us think it isn't as bad as it obviously is. I've been aware of the indifference of the elite to American working families when certain things happened in my hometown (Philadelphia) in the seventies with shipyards moving to Korea. I don't care what your political orientation is. You can't possibly think that's what's going on is OK and you need to read it and know about it.

Navarro does a brilliant job of breaking down exactly what is wrong with our current trade policy with China and how it can be fixed. Navarro is a Harvard trained PHD in economics who knows what he's talking about. The bad trade policy we currently have in place is a major driving factor in many issues our country faces today and will continue to face tomorrow, unless trade policy is changed.

The best Jobs program for the US is trade policy reform with China.

This book presents a solid indictment of China's unfair practices relating to international trade as well as product safety.

I found the book to be terribly one-sided and the authors unwilling to delve deeper into the circumstances behind certain situations. Not that they are wrong - as far as I know from living in China seven years all of the incidents they list actually took place. But the list is alarming (which is their point in a global call for action) and is essentially a compilation of all the bad news coming out of China recently. In a book format it merely serves to repel the reader - I had trouble finishing the book. Imagine if you had to listen to Fox News report on China for 24 hours straight. Perhaps if it had been written in a more scholarly fashion and attempted to explain why bad things happen in China it would have been a more pleasant read. Nonetheless, if you prefer the Michael Moore style it can be a quick and useful read.

Peter Navarro is amazing, he writes with courage and compassion with many many examples of why China should be of concern to the rest of the world. They don't want to coexist and be a partner in this world, they want to dominate in one ugly way! This book should be required reading for anyone thinking China is doing good by US, that think China is doing us favors by offering us cheap priced items to buy! This book, along with Crouching Tiger gets to the heart and soul, in full living color about what China means to all of us, a country willing to manipulate, pollute our earth, cheat, lie, steal, bully to get what they want. They are not a model of a country, as they are now, that I want to buy anything from. Quite frankly I have no respect for them, not anymore. The people that support China need to smell the coffee, because, it is sewer stinking rotten to the core smelling coffee. I remember a time when Made in Japan meant an item was cheap, not in terms of price but quality. Then Japan changed, they produced quality items at decent prices, but they never did the cheating, the stealing, the price manipulations, that China does. The price paid for a Chinese made item has more cost than just money. The Chinese companies along with its political entities and military have no moral soul or moral compass!

Get the facts and then decide how you can help make a change. This book is certainly an eye opener and points out how china is targeting countries around the world to exploit resources and destabilizeing their economy. The USA and E.U. are already feeling the negative effects of this and need to take immediate steps to mitigate the onslaught of a systematic attack by this juggernaut.

A cautionary tale about the intentions of the government of the People's Republic of China.
