ACE LANDERS has written several books for children, including I Am a Train and I Am a Garbage Truck. He lives in New York City with his family. PAOLA MIGLIARI has illustrated numerous children's books including I am a Train and I am a Garbage Truck.

It worked for a couple of months, but the binding is flimsy and my 2 year old ripped it in half. A different book he LOVES about garbage trucks is called "Trashy Town." I got them both about the same time because we were trying to get him to not fear the garbage truck, and Trashy Town won by a landslide. Here's the link:

My son is obsessed with garbage trucks anyway, and I didn't want to buy yet another toy truck, so this book seemed like a good alternative. Shaped like a truck, yet tells the story about collecting garbage, recycling, landfills, etc... I guess you can stretch it to say it is sort of educational and kids can learn something from it. My son is only 3, so for him he looks at the images and then makes up a story about the images - good for the imagination too. The book itself seems sturdy and a good price for what it is.

Super cute sturdy board book! My 19 month old enjoys carrying it around and turning the pages himself. He also enjoys throwing it at me if I'm unable to read it right away. Soft attractive illustrations, with a non-conventional woman trash truck driver which is a nice change if you're looking for less stereotypical books.

Mr Four loves the book and can already read some of it. The pictures are detailed enough to be interesting. Blippi on You Tube has introduced my boy to the concepts of garbage and recycling so this book follows through.

Basic and wonderful, this is a favorite of ours for the car - the interesting shape makes it fun for our toddler to read and explore while in her carseat.

Cute book for my 2 yr. old who's very into trucks! It speaks about the work of both garbage and recycling trucks.

BOUGHT THIS BOOK FOR MY GRANDSON WHO LOVES GARBAGE TRUCKS SO YES YOU GOT IT HE LOVES THE BOOK TOO!

One of many of my son's books that we read on almost a daily basis.
