

The book was found

Indians And Leftists In The Making Of Ecuador's Modern Indigenous Movements (Latin America Otherwise)

Synopsis

In June 1990, Indigenous peoples shocked Ecuadorian elites with a powerful uprising that paralyzed the country for a week. Militants insisted that the government address Indigenous demands for land ownership, education, and economic development. This uprising was a milestone in the history of Ecuador's social justice movements, and it inspired popular organizing efforts across Latin America. While the insurrection seemed to come out of nowhere, Marc Becker demonstrates that it emerged out of years of organizing and developing strategies to advance Indigenous rights. In this richly documented account, he chronicles a long history of Indigenous political activism in Ecuador, from the creation of the first local agricultural syndicates in the 1920s through the galvanizing protests of 1990. In so doing, he reveals the central role of women in Indigenous movements and the history of productive collaborations between rural Indigenous activists and urban leftist intellectuals. Becker explains how rural laborers and urban activists worked together in Ecuador, merging ethnic and class-based struggles for social justice. Socialists were often the first to defend Indigenous languages, cultures, and social organizations. They introduced rural activists to new tactics, including demonstrations and strikes. Drawing on leftist influences, Indigenous peoples became adept at reacting to immediate, local forms of exploitation while at the same time addressing broader underlying structural inequities. Through an examination of strike activity in the 1930s, the establishment of a national-level Ecuadorian Federation of Indians in 1944, and agitation for agrarian reform in the 1960s, Becker shows that the history of Indigenous mobilizations in Ecuador is longer and deeper than many contemporary observers have recognized.

Book Information

Series: Latin America Otherwise

Paperback: 336 pages

Publisher: Duke University Press Books (August 18, 2008)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0822342790

ISBN-13: 978-0822342793

Product Dimensions: 6 x 0.9 x 8.9 inches

Shipping Weight: 15.2 ounces (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 5.0 out of 5 stars 2 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #912,482 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #26 in Books > History >

Americas > South America > Ecuador #886 in Books > Textbooks > Humanities > History >

Latin America #927 in Books > Politics & Social Sciences > Politics & Government > International & World Politics > Caribbean & Latin American

Customer Reviews

“In this timely contribution to Latin American history and the study of Indigenous South Americans, Marc Becker documents the long history of Indigenous political activism in Ecuador, reminding us that current events never spring into existence without historical precedent. The impressive amount of new documentary evidence he provides makes this a book that will be immediately read and discussed, and then debated for years to come.”—Mary Weismantel, author of Cholas and Pishtacos: Stories of Race and Sex in the Andes

"In this timely contribution to Latin American history and the study of Indigenous South Americans, Marc Becker documents the long history of Indigenous political activism in Ecuador, reminding us that current events never spring into existence without historical precedent. The impressive amount of new documentary evidence he provides makes this a book that will be immediately read and discussed, and then debated for years to come."--Mary Weismantel, author of Cholas and Pishtacos: Stories of Race and Sex in the Andes

This is a must read book despite the surprising paucity of site field work. The indigenous movement in Ecuador has reached important levels of political representation and at least constitutional recognition that is unique to this country and deserves close attention. Underlying the integral role that the left played in this, as Marc Becker does, adds an essential historical and social element that is not otherwise easily available.

This book is well documented and interestingly written. I grew up in a neighboring community and some of my Indigenous friends verified what is documented here.

Download to continue reading...

Indians and Leftists in the Making of Ecuador's Modern Indigenous Movements (Latin America Otherwise) Pachakutik: Indigenous Movements and Electoral Politics in Ecuador (Critical Currents in Latin American Perspective Series) Soap Making: 365 Days of Soap Making: 365 Soap Making Recipes for 365 Days (Soap Making, Soap Making Books, Soap Making for Beginners, Soap Making Guide, ... Making, Soap Making Supplies, Crafting) Soap Making: 365 Days of Soap Making (Soap Making, Soap Making Books, Soap Making for Beginners, Soap Making Guide, Soap Making Recipes, Soap Making Supplies): Soap Making Recipes for 365 Days To Die in this Way:

Nicaraguan Indians and the Myth of Mestizaje, 1880-1965 (Latin America Otherwise) Everynight
Life: Culture and Dance in Latin/o America (Latin America Otherwise) Ecuador 55 Secrets - The Locals Travel Guide For Your Trip to Ecuador 2017: Skip the tourist traps and explore like a local :
Where to Go, Eat & Party in Ecuador Highland Indians and the State in Modern Ecuador (Pitt Latin American Series) Modern Blackness: Nationalism, Globalization, and the Politics of Culture in Jamaica (Latin America Otherwise) Indians, Oil, and Politics: A Recent History of Ecuador (Latin American Silhouettes) The Ultimate Soap Making Guide: Unique Soap Making Recipes & Complete Soap Making Guide for Beginners (Soap Making at Home, Soapmaking Guide, Soap Making Recipes, Soap Making Book) How to Debate Leftists and Destroy Them: 11 Rules for Winning the Argument Trading Roles: Gender, Ethnicity, and the Urban Economy in Colonial Potosí (Latin America Otherwise) Callaloo Nation: Metaphors of Race and Religious Identity among South Asians in Trinidad (Latin America Otherwise) The Blood of Guatemala: A History of Race and Nation (Latin America Otherwise) Doña María's Story: Life History, Memory, and Political Identity (Latin America Otherwise) The Spectacular City: Violence and Performance in Urban Bolivia (Latin America Otherwise) El Alto, Rebel City: Self and Citizenship in Andean Bolivia (Latin America
Otherwise) Intercultural Utopias: Public Intellectuals, Cultural Experimentation, and Ethnic Pluralism in Colombia (Latin America Otherwise) Muddied Waters: Race, Region, and Local History in Colombia, 1846-1948 (Latin America Otherwise)

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help