A Running Back Can't Always Rush (Sports Illustrated Kids Victory School Superstars)

Synopsis

Danny loves to go fast. With his super speed, he can rush down the football field in seconds. The trouble is he forgets to slow down off of the field. When he zips through his homework, he makes mistakes. When he eats too fast, he feels sick. How will Danny learn that a running back can't always rush?

At the Victory School for Super Athletes, every student has superpowers. These special gifts translate into trouble in real life when characters use them unwisely. Each title focuses on a different sport, and each features a different main character, who --Library Media Connection

While growing up in southwestern Minnesota, Nate LeBoutillier read any sports books he could get his hands on. He now lives with his family in North Mankato, Minnesota. He began writing children's books in 2001 and has published many non-fiction titles. He also writes adult short fiction, novels, and screenplays. When not writing, Nate can be found playing with his kids, listening to music, or training for triathlons. Jorge Santillan got his start illustrating in the children's sections of local newspapers. He opened his own illustration studio in 2005. His creative team specializes in books, comics, and children magazines. Jorge lives in Mendoza, Argentina, with his wife, Bety, and their four dogs, Fito, Caro, Angie, and Sammy.

If your child loves sports this a great book. A little too short for my taste for the price you pay, but a great way of teaching your kids about good sportsmanship. Would love to see these books being offered as a collection.

these sports series are great. Wish they would make them like 2 chapters longer or introduce the next level up for the kids who aren't quite ready for the thicker chapter books

My sons loved this book. My 8 year old isn't so excited about reading, but loves football, so he really loved this book!

My 9 year old loves football. He enjoyed the book a lot even though it's not about playing football. He read it at least 3 times love it!

Great book delivered on time!

Great book for my five year old... Love the lesson it gives, and he got!

Thank you
